Parent Notes

Finally, your dreams mark the path to your happiness. Follow them wisely and be as proud of your achievements as we are of you. Love, Dad and Mom.

To our daughter Missy, who matured faster than we ever expected into a beautiful girl who is always there to listen. Can't wait! Love, Mom, Dad and Keri.

Bernie, Congratulations! We hope that all your dreams come true, and may they be filled with love and happiness. Love, Mom and Dad.

Dear Sean, only God knows why he has blessed us with such a wonderful loving, giving son. We won't question why, only be grateful for your blessing. Love, Mom, Dad and Tanya.

Sarah Louise, my daughter, my best friend. I've been so lucky. I love you, Mom.

Tyson, always interested in things, turning them over and over in your hands, studying and looking at you as if to look deeper. Love it with fun, humor, and our love.

Amanda, remember life is full of summers and each one brings a new day. Like you, full of joy and wonder. We'll always be there for you. Love, Mom and Dad.

Cassidy, the day has arrived for you to open up those beautiful wings and find your place among the stars. Remember...don't sweat the small stuff. Love, Mom.

What does one say about the wonder of their child? Fate beyond words, wisdom beyond years, tempered with a passionate spirit. I call that wonder, Cass. Love, Dad.

Jeremy - the son in our sunshine. Find confidence in your generous personality, get-out morning, all you've achieved. Remember our pride in you is exceeded only by our love. Love Mom, Dad, Josh and Matthew.

Lisa, we are both very proud of the beautiful young lady you have become. Best wishes always. Love, Dad and Maddy.

Lisa Marie, Champion: be positive at all times, and you will achieve any goal you set for yourself in the future. Love Mom.

John, always remember, the choices you make today determine our tomorrow. We love you. Mom, Dad and Rachel.

Lisa - Congratulations! We are so very proud of the special young lady you've become. Remember and follow your dreams as only you can. We love you! Dad, Mom and Chrissy.

Joe, we are so proud of you. Whatever your goal is in life we are behind you all the way. Love, Mom, Dad and Julie.

Bethany, be the best you can be, always. We are proud of you and love you so much. Mom and Dad.

Jason, the road of life has many turns and detours. Although there are many trials and tribulations, the best is yet to come, so know you'll always come shining through. We love you dearly. Mom and Dad.

Oh, my you find the same excitement in the pursuit of knowledge as you do from snoring from pillows and downy mountain slopes. Love you. Mom and Dad

Love, My baby girl, my grown daughter, my friend. I am so proud of you. Live each day to its fullest. Love, Mom

Well, as we gaze upon your face, we see the man you've grown to be and the place you've grown from. Your being reminds us each day of the reason why we decided to have you. You're a joy, a pleasure, a beautiful complication that keeps us young and forever amazed at what one person can accomplish in such a short time-span. Thank you for being just you!

Here comes our "baby" is graduating and the house is going to be too quiet, especially in the morning, without the sleeping! You have grown into quite a young woman. We love you very much and will miss you terribly. Love, Mom, Dad and John

Also, remember: It's not what you have, it's what you do with what you have that makes all the difference. Mom and Dad

Oh, we are very proud of you and we will always be there for you no matter what you do. Congratulations! Love, Mom, Dad and John

Well, better it a quality and smart person to realize your dreams. Success is yours! Love, Mom

Kate, I remember the day you arrived, how excited and happy we were. You've continued to bring us joy through the years. I'm really proud of the young woman you've become. Love, Mom

Well, we are so proud to have a son like you. You have a great personality and lots of talent. Those qualities will contribute towards a bright future for you. We love you. Mom and Dad

Thank Heaven, the morning you were born was so beautiful I know I would be blessed, but I never could have guessed this much. I love you, Mom

Just, we love you and wish you luck and happiness in this new adventure in your life. Mom, Dad, Trish, and Jennifer

Frank & I'm proud of you. You're just a good girl and we're proud of you. Thank you for your love and friendship. Happy and Pam

We know life has always been a struggle and schooling never came easy for you. We want you to know how proud we are of you. Love, Mom and Dad

Now, you try a little bit of money could help. Give it yourself gradually and you will achieve your goals. Success is now you feel about yourself. Love, Mom

Thank you for all the love and support you have given us. You have always been a source of love and pride. Make us your values and sense of humor. Remember we are always here for love and support. Mom and Dad

Erin, Thanks for all the great years and memories you have given us. May all your dreams and aspirations come true. We know you will work hard for them. Love, Mom and Dad

Christy, and you grown from my baby girl to my Christina. You're just a young woman who I'm proud to call my daughter. See you at the top! I love you, Mom

Kelly, We've watched you grow through life's ups and downs, maintaining your positive, sense of humor, and spirit. We're proud and feel blessed having you as a daughter. Love, Mom and Dad

April - The shining sunrise, The brilliant sunset, The heavenly blessing in the spring. You are the sun of all these things. Love, Dad

Janetie Our little "angel" we are right behind you every day. As you run for your dreams, remember to stop and give thanks. Buy yourself a flower. Love, Mom, Dad, and Amanda

A TALE AS OLD AS TIME

Queen Rebecca Fwen, King Jeremy Brooks, and the court: Joanne Maurer, Ben Gahariani, Staci McDonald, Charmon Kennedy, Kelly Lewis, Billy Smith, Bridget Blacklock, and Justin Sabourin. Photos by Beltrami's Studio and Foto Shop.

Our tale's as old as time
 As true as it could be.
 A night with all our friends,
 We never thought we'd see.
 Months of anticipation
 Soon came to a close.
 As our court, king & queen,
 Danced by the light of the moon.

VUHS girls drop Burlington, 50-45

Emily Rossier, first female player to break 1,000-point mark in school history

By BOB CHATFIELD
BURLINGTON — Last Tuesday night was a big night for the Vergennes Union High girls' basketball team for two reasons.

First, senior center Emily Rossier became the first female player ever at Vergennes to score 1,000 points in her career. Second, the Commodores picked up an important come-from-behind, 50-45 victory over host Burlington High.

The basket that put the lanky Commodore star over the 1,000-point mark came on a give-and-go play with Rachel Burnett in the fourth quarter. It also came in the middle of a Commodore rally that saw Vergennes come back from a 13-point half-time deficit to pick up the win.

Holly Paquette and Carol Dula joined McDonald in the Vergennes scoring column, adding one goal each, and junior goalie Marijean Brooks turned in another solid outing in goal, finishing with five saves.

Vergennes 67, BFA-Fairfax 56

FAIRFAX — Chad Whittemore tore into BFA-Fairfax with six 3-point field goals and 29 points. The win improved Vergennes to 8-3.

VERGENNES — Jen Moulton punched in two goals to lift Vergennes over Enosburg.

Jen Cobb added a goal for Vergennes (4-6-2), and Marijean Brooks made four saves in goal for the Commodores.

Enosburg's Darlene Pelkey scored a goal in the past.

Coach's Corner

When asked about the track team, Coaches Saward and Dunn responded: "This was V.U.H.S.'s first track and field team since 1975. The season highlight was when ten of our twenty-one team members qualified for the State Championships. Leading that group of talented athletes was Megan Thurber who placed second in the 800m at the State Championships."

COACH'S CORNER

When asked for her comments regarding this year's team, Coach Lissa Gebo responded, "I think we're still in a rebuilding phase, but with a lot of hard work we will be a winning team. I think with the girls returning and the girls coming up, we will have a strong team."

The seniors from spring 1995 were Melissa Beach, Liza Latif, Melanie Beach, Cady Collette, Jessica Clayton, and Jen Rice.

COACH'S CORNER

When asked how he felt about the 1995 and 1996 baseball teams, Coach Ray Beaver responded, "I am really excited about the 1996 season. Last year was a good year. The boys played hard and at the end of the year they came together to play like a team, which helped us make it to the second round of the playoffs.

This year I think we have players that will improve and play better than they have ever played before. These guys have been playing together since they were nine years old. I believe they are are good enough to compete in the State Championships. This team has the potential to be the best team I have ever coached."

Good Morning, Jason!

The girls in the hall - Molly, Lindsay, and Michelle

Junior Year is an exciting time, filled with PSATs, the Prom, and plans for the future. We strengthen our bonds as friends and ready ourselves for our senior year. While we're not the oldest on the block, we're still old school. This year we've seen how diverse our class really is — from a group of kids talking about cars, to a pair staring into each other's eyes, to a couple of punks jamming out to their walkmans. We are all different, yet we share a common bond. We are the Class of 1997, forever.

Smooth Sailing

The Class of 1999 is a unique class. There are many combinations of people that make our class original. We also have some great teachers this year. The majority of freshmen say that this year is an okay year. The homework is harder and the classes are more strict, but there is still time for fun. It is better than junior high!

WELCOME TO THE SHOWBOAT

ARTS...

The ARTs

Band, drama, chorus, art and writing... what a blend of talent VUHS holds. From auditions to performing nights, from initial conception to completion of their creative projects, the students of Vergennes combine all their artistic gifts, theatrical ambitions, and musical talents, creating a fine "Show Boat". As the entertainment on our ship, we do our best to present outstanding performances through hard work, determination, and a love for the Arts. We always shoot for the moon, and even if we miss, we know we'll land among the stars...

BAND MAKES WAVES IN MARYLAND

Maryland in Review

On May 18, 1995, VUHS band members left for Annapolis Maryland to attend a judged band festival--individual bands perform in front of judges to receive a rating. VUHS finished the festival with an "excellent," which is the second to highest rating.

In addition to performing, the band toured the Annapolis Naval Base, took the ferry on a water tour of Annapolis, shopped, and ended the trip with an unforgettable day at Kings Dominion Amusement Park.

In the words of a VUHS band student, "Our trip to Maryland was a good experience for everyone. Not only did we improve ourselves musically, we also got to see many sights. Our band received an 'excellent' rating, and we were very proud of our accomplishments." Regarding the VUHS band, Mrs. O'Daniel observed, "It's a sense of accomplishment. There's such a rush of adrenaline. That's what drives them (students) to stay in band." Quoted from: [illegible]

In May, high school students from all over New England gathered at the Bread Loaf campus of Middlebury College to celebrate fine writing. Participants met with published poets and writers to discuss the art of writing. Besides publication of their works in the conference anthology, VUHS students enjoyed the casual atmosphere, having their writing critiqued, and the insights of professionals.

If a picture is worth more than ten thousand words

...then VUHS is a veritable library of student art, thanks to the inspired teaching of Ethelyn Bartlett. The lobby mosaic, school sign out front, emblems in the gym, and wall murals in classrooms and hallways demonstrate her talent and generous support. Every year her students exhibit their work at VUHS, Bixby Library, and malls in Vermont. Her students have majored in art and succeeded in their careers. We value her commitment to excellence and generous contributions. We wish her joy in the future.

Congratulations Teacher of the Year Stephanie Phillips!

At the August inservice I was both surprised and honored to be presented the VUHS Teacher Of The Year Award. This award means a great deal to me because I was selected by the faculty as their choice for the award. It means a lot to know that my colleagues value the time and commitment I give to the school. In October, I attended the awards ceremony at the University of Vermont. I felt very lucky to have Mr Randolph, Mr Lanphear, Mrs Hoffman, and most of all my Dad share this special event with me.

I am in my fourth year of teaching at VUHS and feel that I am very lucky to teach here. I have always enjoyed working with the high-school students, faculty, and staff. In visits to other schools I have found that we are truly fortunate to have all that we do in the way of technological resources. Our partnership with BF Goodrich has been an exciting and rewarding experience that has evolved during my time at VUHS. The assistance they have provided in helping us create a technology plan and in working as classroom tutors makes our school and community partnership one of a kind.

Candid photos above and below provide glimpses of Stephanie Phillips at work and play. Besides a full teaching schedule and responsibilities as FBLA and Student Council advisor, Mrs. Phillips finds time for her family and a variety of personal interests.

HIGHER LEARNING

"Students came into the class cognitive 90 lb.
weaklings and emerged intellectually buff."
-Matt Schlein, English teacher

AP English is a great new learning experience. We had the benefit of not only having our own teacher, but also a college professor help us with our writing skills, which have improved throughout the course. The class has made us familiar with college level writing and was a good step towards college.

A unique experience came to us via satellite from U.O.M. this year. We are one of the few schools in the state who are lucky enough to take AP English and Calculus through U.O.M. We are being treated like college students and receive the same respect and freedom that we would expect in a college class.

Humanities Seeks Connections Across Disciplines

Using an interdisciplinary approach that combines art, literature, music, and history, Humanities is team taught by Jon Yarnall, Jay Rogers, and Wayne Ganson. In addition to the challenging curriculum, field trips to Boston, Montreal, Mount Philo, Shelburne Museum, and other places have helped expand students' knowledge of universal concepts. To develop bridges of understanding between the past and present, students read Chaucer, Shakespeare, Keats, Ferlinghetti, Budbill, and other well-known and lesser-known authors. Students grasp similarities and differences between cultures and periods when they explore a wide variety of topics that includes Stone Age art and subway graffiti, Gothic cathedrals and Watts' towers and straw sculptures, and the history and myths of the ancient Greeks and Vikings, as well as the history and folklore of Vermont. Lest anyone take for granted their heritage, the course ends with Fahrenheit 451.

Contemporary Man

Contemporary Man is team taught by Jon Yarnall and Jay Rogers and provides a combination of literature, art, and history with a different class setting. The students are able to go on various class trips which improve learning and social skills and bring out a sense of imagination and creativity in each student. They watch a variety of films, from Nascar racing to "One of the Missing." Connections between man's positive contributions and eventual world betterment are stressed.

SAT Preparatory

SAI Prep builds skills needed by juniors and seniors to take the SATs. The class is team taught by Joe Whalen and Paul Tighe. Their main focus is on vocabulary development and mathematical skills. Students are able to test themselves by using computer programs. The programs are similar to the actual SATs and improve student scores by going over wrong answers.

Math & Science

Challenging programs in math and science prepare students for life and further education, and VUHS students often score near the top in state competitions and tests. In math and science classes, clockwise from above left, students and teachers are as follows: Kevin Hebert, Amy Smith, Kim Torrey, and Kara Griswold in College Biology; Physics with Mr. Ganson; Geometry with Mr. Lampher; Karen Munnett and Jenny Minns in Geometry; Russian exchange student Andrew Nikiforov in Calculus; Julie Daniels and Laurie Marcotte; Rich Przybylinski stretches a slink in Physics; Mrs. Ambrose helps Kara Griswold; Louis Galiotti and Adam Marro concentrate on a science project.

English & Social Studies

To develop skills in reading, writing, speaking, listening, and thinking, VUHS students take grade-level English courses and the following electives: College Composition, Creative Writing, Journalism, Shakespeare, Public Speaking, and Twentieth Century Literature. Students study modern literature as well as classical masterpieces, and literary criticism, vocabulary development, essay writing and discussion skills are also stressed.

Local, state, and national history are taught in social studies. Besides U.S. history and law, students broaden their knowledge regarding diverse cultures by taking courses such as Black Studies, Native Americans, World Cultures, World Geography, Humanities, and Contemporary Man. While exploring issues and events across many cultures, students begin to understand our current global village.

B.F. Goodrich Supports VUHS Program

In a unique cooperative venture and contributing their time, knowledge, and skills, B.F. Goodrich volunteers tutor students, teach weekly in several classrooms, present special units in courses (e.g., technical writing), and provide computer training to VUHS faculty. In addition to advice regarding design and purchase of the VUHS network computer system, B.F. Goodrich personnel have quickly responded to questions, offered valuable help and sound solutions, effectively supported VUHS efforts to establish a foothold in the twenty-first century (e.g. support that helped gain a $100,000 National Science Foundation Grant), and frequently served as a reality check for setting goals and developing a viable curriculum. Besides tutoring individual students once or twice a week, B.F. Goodrich personnel have assisted in the following programs: Algebra I and II, Pre-Calculus, Business Math, Accounting, Keyboarding, and Middle School courses. Pictured above, the following generous B.F. Goodrich volunteers have been very much appreciated this past year: Jessica Allisto, Penny Austin, Connie Breitig, Dave Collins, Phil Gerson, Bob Hess, Cathy Hoff, Max Kimball, Fred Lichten, Paula Line, Thida Lin, Amy McKinno, Helen McManimen, Linda Miller, Robb Newman, Carrie Sanborn, Jeff Solomon, Toby Stewart, Charlie Turo, and Joe Winnay.

Jobs for Credit

Jobs for Credit offers VUHS students on-the-spot training in a wide variety of fields. Some students hope to continue working in these jobs after graduation, and others have used the experience to make career choices. For those going to college, experience in a field related to the anticipated major may provide a key reference needed for admissions and financial aid. For all students, their jobs for credit were enjoyable and productive. Clockwise from upper left:

ACTIVITIES

We may have arrived on separate ships, but we still need to set our differences aside and treat each other equally, with kindness, generosity, and respect.

We need to work together to get ourselves headed in the right direction, for even the best ship, without a cooperative crew, is destined to sink.

So, let us travel together and keep our heads high above the water as we sail across the sea of life...

And remember,
we're all in the same boat
now.

This year's Student Council had a new advisor, Mrs. Phillips. She began her year of hard work and long hours before school started, by attending summer meetings. She has proven herself a successful advisor in the students' eyes by being there when they need her but also letting them make their own decisions.

PUMPKIN PANDEMONIUM

Future Business Leaders Of America

This year's members of FBLA are Darcie Wenzel, Carrie Meacham and Michelle Boulay. They are advised by Mrs. Stephanie Phillips. They spent this year preparing for the FBLA Conference in the spring. This conference gives participants a chance to compete in speed typing, speaking, and accounting.

Math League

The Math League competes against nine other high schools in the greater Burlington district. Students take individual tests in the areas of arithmetic, algebra, geometry, and advanced math. There is also a team test that the group works on. VUHS does well in the team-test competition.

UVM Conference

Trevor Marcotte, Moriah Park, and Ben Gaboriault attended the UVM Conference as juniors. They had the opportunity to explore college life for a two-day period. They had roommates, went to classes, and enjoyed recreational activities.

VOICE OF

This year's topic was "Answering America's Call." All contestants wrote what they thought the call was. The students discussed anything from education to serving the nation.

The Big Brother/Big Sister Program is designed to give the children of VUES a role model and a friend. The high school students enjoy visiting their little brothers and sisters each week. The program gives VUHS students a chance to share their knowledge and experience with others and develop lasting relationships.

Big brothers and sisters spend time every week with a child, playing games, making a craft, or just talking.

Around the holidays the elementary school provided cookies that the big and little sisters and brothers could decorate.

The little brothers and sisters like to show their high school friends new games on the computer.

The German students spent the year planning and raising money for their trip to Germany in April. They stayed with different families and visited many historic places. In October, the German students came to the U.S. The exchange students went to the Vermont Teddy Bear Factory, Ben and Jerry's, the Shelburne Museum, and other Vermont attractions before going to Montreal and New York City.

German Club

Advisor Mrs. Joy Minns and the members of the German Club 1995-1996

Mrs. Minns and her German students have spent the year learning the art of the German language and fund-raising to prepare themselves for trips and activities. Many of them went to Germany this year and others are looking forward to trips to Pennsylvania and Germany in the future.

German Trip

Escorted by Mrs. Minns, these students ventured through Germany. They stayed in Bochum and visited the city of Cologne. They traveled to historic East Germany, visiting Erfurt. They also took a biking trip to see several of Germany's historic castles.

Close-Up

Mr. Aldinger and these students went to Washington DC to learn about our government. While they were there they met with Vermont's senators and representative. They also visited the Holocaust Museum, the Capitol, the Lincoln Memorial, the Washington Monument, the Smithsonian, the Vietnam Wall, the National Archives, and the White House.

Environmental Club

The Environmental Club members are Karen Blanchard, Cassi Boise, Lisa Coyle, Jeff Gaboriault, Tim Hanlon, Anne Lasher, Stephanie Looby, April Loven, Jenny Minns, Karin Munnett, Brianne Tisbert, Kim Torrey, and Darci Yantz, plus advisor Sue Miner. This year club members held a dance to raise money to send to several national environmental groups.

Odyssey of the Mind

Odyssey of the Mind was a challenging learning experience for team members. They learned to think quickly on their own, while having a great time. They also learned to work with others and cooperate under pressure.

This year OM students participated in the UVM competition. Their project was a balsa-wood structure, and each team responded spontaneously to a problem solving situation.

The 1995-1996 senior high Odyssey of the Mind team members were as follows:

Tyson Blanchard, Brian Crossman, Dan Crossman, Anne Lasher, and Lindsay Warden.

Mr. John Harris was the advisor for the BU Engineering Design Competition and the UVM Design Competition.

VUHS placed five teams in the University of Vermont's College of Engineering T.A.S.C. (Technology And Science Connection) this year. This year's event, called "Engineer's Shopper" had students build a device that would move grocery cans from one end of a 3 x 5 ft. table to the other using 1.5 volt batteries for power. VUHS has emerged as one of the stronger high schools participating in this state-wide design-and-build event.

University of Vermont Design Competition

The teams from VUHS during 1995 were as follows:
 seniors, Richard Przybylinski and Tyson Blanchard;
 juniors, Amy Miner and Richie

Austin; sophomores, Jay Jerger and Jeremy Devold; and freshmen, Jesse Laurer, Kelli VandeWeert, Natasha Haaijema, and Lance Steady.

An alcohol-related automobile fatality is reported every thirty minutes in the United States. This is a disturbing statistic, but it is also important to know that because of groups like S.A.D.D. the number of fatalities has decreased. From 1962 to 1993 the number of deaths decreased from 29,365 to 17,961 a year and these figures continue to decrease.

Project Graduation

The Project Graduation Committee had a lot of plans from the start. They surveyed the senior class and got a lot of support. Everything fell into place—a dance under the stars after graduation, a trip to Le Ronde theme park, and a ferry ride on Lake Champlain with a live band. They had a great, non-alcoholic celebration.

Graduation Committee

The Graduation Committee spent the year selecting speakers and planning the program for these important last few moments of the senior year. Graduation is a special event, and the Graduation Committee worked long and hard to make it memorable. The seniors send a special thank you to these students who helped end the year with a bang.

Senior Video Committee

These students taped many exciting events and activities from the senior year. They reviewed and edited the tapes and then added candid photos and sound track to the final video, which included every member of the senior class and provided a memorable and amusing evening of entertainment.

Pilot Team Provides Family Atmosphere

The Pilot Team was the first multi-aged team in the middle school, and these students and teachers have set a great example with their many successes. This year students have organized classroom activities, special events, and field trips through the community service committee, the fundraising committee, the public relations committee, and the field trip committee. The teachers and classroom assistant have provided the best education they could in a family-oriented atmosphere. From left to right the Pilot Team teachers are Mrs. Hatch and Mrs. Cavoretto, and below, Mrs. Chamberlain, team instructional assistant, and Ms. Johnson, middle-school home-school coordinator. Candidats below include Nicole Matfani, student teacher, and Liz Ryan, substitute guidance counselor.

ON A QUEST FOR KNOWLEDGE

To question all things, to seek new challenges, to grow

Students of Team Quest, who named their team for the constant quest for knowledge, made it their goal to prepare for high school. The teachers sought the best in each student, so that all students would achieve their goals. Team Quest students organized a train ride on the Sugarbush Express, a hike, and an extended class trip.

Each student's consistent support for other team members has helped everyone achieve academically and enjoy many exciting learning experiences. Teachers of the team are pictured to the left: top row, Mrs. Flemer and Mr. Matkowski, second row, Mr. Nimblett, Mrs. Stansbery and Mrs. Brown (Special Education).

As They Seek New Challenges

Team D students had two main goals: to learn to respect others and to use their own learning styles. Taking a hands-on approach, they studied many ideas and subjects. Special units included Outer Space, Japan, Antarctica, and American History; the latter included spending a weekend in Boston. This team had a student government with officers and committees. Many of the activities were organized by the students themselves. The teachers are pictured to the left: top row, Mrs. Dinklage and Mrs. Pankey, and second row, Mrs. Miner and Miss Deal (Middle School Guidance).
