It appears that "Old Man Winter" has arrived at last. There's snow on the ground and the weather is cold and blustery. Nevertheless, we have much to be thankful for. We may enjoy Christmas in this year of 1945 without the terrors and hazards of war, lurking in the backs of our minds. Many of our dear ones will be home this Christmas for the first time in several years. Let us all give our most solemn thanks, ~~this~~ Christmas, for the peace that is at last ours.

May you all have a Very Merry Christmas, and a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

LITERARY

A POEM

Her clothes were all tattered and torn,
On her face a look lost and forlorn
As she stood there with pencils in hand
You knew she hardly could stand.
Her coat was so thin and she had not a mitten
She looked like a poor tossed-out little kitten
To face the world so ugly and mean,
With never a friend upon whom to lean,
One look and you knew she was sad--
But now was the time to be glad!
It was Christmas eve! Isn't it hard to believe
That one so very young should grieve?

Irene Van Ornum '49

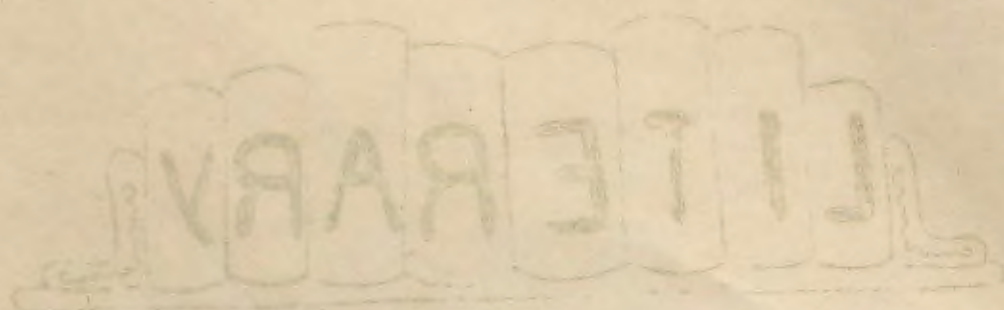

AFTER

The wind was whispering in the trees,
The sun was sinking low.
I strolled along the garden path
Knowing that I should go.

But have you heard the trees at dusk?
Their words come faint but clear,
"We're born, we grow, we live, we die,
But always we'll be here."

I stopped to still the loudness
That was ringing in my ears.
But the music still kept playing
And the rain drops turned to tears.

Carol Griffis '47

THE

Her clothes were all torn and soiled,
On her face a look of despair
As she stood there with hands in prayer,
You know she hardly could stand.
Her heart was so full and so true,
She looked like a poor, old, blind man,
To face the world as help and aid,
With tears a friend upon whom to lean,
One look and you knew she was true,
But now was the time to be glad,
It was Christmas eve, and it was so true,
That was the very thing that she had.

From the Great 100

THE

The wind was blowing in the trees,
The sun was shining bright,
I walked along the garden path,
Knowing that I should see.

But how you heard the voice of love,
Their words were true and true,
"I love you, I love you, I love you,"
But always will be true.

I stopped to fill the loneliness
That was ringing in my ears,
For the music still kept playing
And the rain began to fall.

Carol O'Brien '97

WHICH?

The sky is dark,
There is no sun.
The wind is high,
Fall has come.

The leaves are gone,
The trees are bare,
For earth is put
In winter's care.

The first faint trace
Of green is showing.
Spring is here--
Winter's going.

But how the summer breeze
Is swaying
Over meadows
Ripe for haying.

Tell me, give me
One good reason.
Just what is
Your favorite season?

Carol Griffis '47

Rain - rapping sharply on the pavement
Rain - slipping softly to the ground
Rain - pounding down in angry torrents
Rain - stronger beauty never found.

Carol Griffis '47

CHRISTMAS DAY

Christmas is coming
As most of you know
All of the ground
Is covered with snow.

We'll have lots of fun
By jiminy,
When Old Saint Nick
Comes down the chimney.

There'll be toys for the kids
And candy for us
We sure do like
That dear old cuss!

We'll all be happy
During the day
Christmas will be here
But not to stay.

When the great day is over
And all is still
We'll all go sliding
Down the hill.

We'll have our sleds
And our skis
We'll go through the air
With the greatest of ease!

When that night, I must go to bed
I'll quietly cover up my head,
Then offer up a little prayer
To Him who made the day so fair.

Ernest Chapman '47

BEES AND CUB BEARS DON'T AGREE

Bees, bees, they do just as they please,
Gathering honey and storing it in trees.
Some day a cub bear will appear
And his nose, its course will steer,
Right up to that tree where bees stow honey!
He will try to take it without paying money!
And of course the bees when they come back from work
Will see the honey gone and be on the alert.
And the next time that a cub bear approaches,
There will be a surprise that would scare even roaches!

Ramona Murray '48

Christmas is coming
The night of the year
All of the year
Is covered with snow

The sky is dark
There is no sun
The wind is high
But has come

We'll have lots of fun
By the way
From the Saint Nick
Come down the chimney

The leaves are gone
The trees are bare
For each is but
In winter's care

There'll be some for the kids
And money for us
We sure do like
That sort of quest

The first frost trace
Of green is showing
Spring is here
Winter's going

We'll all be happy
During the day
Christmas will be here
But not to stay

But how the summer breeze
Is missing
Over meadows
Also for hay

Then the next day is over
And all is still
We'll all be missing
Down the hill

Tell me, did you
One good reason
Just what is
Your favorite season?

We'll have our share
And our share
We'll go through the air
With the greatest of care

Carol Galtie '47

Then that night, I went to bed
I'll surely cover up my head
Then after up a little prayer
To him who made the day so fair

rain - raining steadily on the pavement
rain - slipping softly to the ground rain - howling down in angry torrents rain - stronger, fiercer, more fierce

Robert Chapman '47

Carol Galtie '47

THE END OF THE WORLD

Good, here, they do just as they please,
Gathering money and storing it in treas,
Some buy a car, some will marry
And his name, it's better with story
Right up to that time when the world
No will try to take it without paying money
And all around the house when they work
Till see the heavy rain and be on the street
And the next time that a bad boy appears
There will be a surprise that would cause much trouble

Robert Murray '48

WHAT'S WHAT AT V. H. S.

Can you imagine:

Ray Tucker six feet tall?
Francis Burroughs being on time for English?
Clovis Yandow talking in class?
Beverly Wright not interested in farming?
Lorraine Poquette without Marvin?
Paul Chapman not flirting with upper classmen?
Shirley Hamel taking a book home?
Jimmy Smith not winking at the Junior Girls?
Gloria Morrill staying home every night?
Coleman Parker not taking his milk cans over to Sheffield at 10:30 p.m.?
Norman Whitney weighing a hundred pounds?
Alfred Jerger not getting his gas at the Texaco Station?
Ruth Danyow getting a feather cut?
Walter Wood making up his "mind"?

PRINCESS PINE

The snow is here again; but early this year
The princess pine was covered
And I was filled with fear.
But going into the woods I dug down
And found that my work was not in vain,
For the princess pine was there just the same.

I dug it out from under the snow,
Put some in a bag and home I go.
My mother is surprised you know,
Because she thought it was all covered with snow.

I took some wire and some string,
And it turns out to be quite a thing.
I put a red ribbon on the top for all to see,
My Christmas wreath is a joy to me.

Question--When is a man most like a pony?
Answer--When he's a little hoarse.

My dear "Sweet Lorraine":

"I Wish I Knew" if "Some Sunday Morning"
"Sylvia" is going to the "Church in the Wildwood"
"Down By The Old Mill Stream" in "Poor Little Rhode Island".

"I Couldn't Sleep a Wink Last Night"
"Because" "It's Been a Long, Long Time" "Since
You Went Away" and I received "No Letter Today".
I "Miss You", "Body and Soul", but "There Must Be a Way" even "When You're a Long, Long Way
From Home". Also "You'll Never Know" how much
"Louise" and "Chloe" "Miss You".

"Remember When" we visited "Chinatown" and saw "Mary" "Swingin On A Star"? I had fun, too, when we went to "The Dark Town Strutters Ball".
"I Wish That I Could Hide Inside This Letter",
but I "NoCan Do". "I Love to Whistle" as "I Dream of You" with your "Dark Eyes", sitting "On The Banks of the Wabash" or traveling to "Califor-niay" "On the Atehison, Topeka, and the Santa Fe" or in a "Sailboat in the Sky".

I guess though that "I'm Just Plain Lonesome", but I'll Be Seeing You" soon and be sure to
"Remember Me to Old Broadway".

"Always"

WHY

Why do the leaves in autumn turn yellow, and green and brown?
Why does the snow start falling upon our lonely town?
Why did God make this world so full of joy and sorrow?
Why must we always have to worry about tomorrow?
Life is here to live, love, and be grateful for.
How can people expect much more?
Why can't they be satisfied to live in freedom's light
And know that they'll be safe when they go to bed at night?
These things are small and uncounted for.
But why (and how) can we ask for anything more?

"Sweetest"

My dear "Sweetest":

Why do the leaves in autumn turn yellow, and green and brown?
Why does the snow start falling upon our lonely land?
Why the old man's hair is full of grey and white?
Why must we always have to wait about and wait?
Why is there so much sorrow, and so much pain?
Why are people always so sad and so sad?
Why can't they be satisfied to live in the world's light?
And know that they'll be with you when you go to bed at night?
These things are small and unimportant, but
But why (and how) can we not let things be?

My dear "Sweetest":

AN INTERESTING SUBJECT

The Biology Class is really progressing this year! Since school began, we have covered plenty of interesting material. Some of the students have helped to dissect a frog. In class we have taken the chlorophyll out of green leaves and tested for grape sugar. Testing for grape sugar was the biggest treat of all. You all know how good juicy grapes are in the fall.

You don't need to be an artist to enroll in Biology Class but if you are it surely would help. We have made drawings of a cell, the cross section of a leaf and the movements of a hydra. Later in the year we hope to sketch the frog. At the present time we are ready to study digestion of food. In a few days we'll be hearing Mr. Palermo say, "Trace a ham sandwich in its steps of digestion through the mouth to the esophagus etc." This large class is really enjoying their work in Biology and at the same time receiving valuable information about living things.

MUSIC

I am Music.
I can express the fire in man's soul.
I cause deep feeling.
The emotions of man are expressed by me,
In a song, a symphony.
I am always old, always new,
Sometimes sad, sometimes gay.
I live and am cherished and loved through the years.
I make feet tap, I make skirts swirl,
People dance, sing and twirl.
But I am not only notes.
I am the songs of the wind,
The roar of the sea,
The murmers of streams,
The crackling brush.
I am the noise of the streets,
The honking of taxis,
The mumble of voices . . .
I have been shut off from parts of the world.
I no longer live there.
Hear Me! Do not stamp me out,
The world could not live without me.
For I am Music.

ANGEL FOOD

When I first entered Stephen's Drug Store in Vergennes, little did I know how many happy hours I would spend there, devouring that delightful, "out of this world" stuff that so proudly bears the name of "Angel Food".

When I first heard the frequenters of Stephens "emporium" talking about Angel Food, my curiosity was aroused that I finally inquired of an ardent lover of this yummy fare, Georgie Bibeau by name, "(as if you didn't know)". The description of this "manna from Heaven" that Georgie gave me was a masterpiece of hyperbole. I succumbed to his "high pressure salesmanship" and decided to try this delectable dish.

Aaah! I do not profess to have the wit, wisdom, or ability to adequately describe the gastronomical reaction I experienced. However, here is a crude attempt.

Take the strains from the Stradavari Orchestra of the "Prince Matchebelli" program, add a hint of José Iturbi, playing Chopin's "Polonaise"; top it off with a dash of Frank Sinatra crooning "I Fall in Love Too Easily".

Now I realize that I hadn't begun to live before I came to this fair city because I didn't know about "Angel Food"--
I JUST DIDN'T KNOW!

WHAT THIS SCHOOL NEEDS

1. A shock absorber to absorb the shock of CAKES falling in the Home Economics Room
2. More special excuses signed.
3. An elevator between the basement, first floor, second floor and third floor.
4. A smoking room for the boys.
5. A room lined with mirrors for the girls.
6. Fewer teachers, shorter hours and longer recesses.
7. A door in the Main Room - wide enough so that students can go through it abreast.

FRANCAIS

Il y avait une maitresse qui dit a ses eleves:

"J'attends l'inspecteur aujourd'hui. Je veux que vous vous prepariez tous, puis qu'il va vous poser quelques questions. Je veux que vous repondiez avec intelligence et que vous parliez distinctement."

De fait, l'inspecteur arrive dans l'apres-midi et il regarde les enfants. Il voit bien qu'ils l'attendent. Il s'approche a un garcon et lui demande:

"Faites-moi une phrase avec le mot "statue".

Le garcon dit:

"Ce'tait-tu (c'etait-toi) qui etais avec la maitresse hier soir?"

Note: Puisque le petit garcon parle incorrectment ces premiers mots se prononcent comme "statue".

SIGNS OF CHRISTMAS

When the strong North wind starts to blow
In sudden gusts and gales so cold,
Soft, white snowflakes begin to fall
Which in the still night cover all.

Early in the morning of the next day
Happy children help clear the way.
Down the hills and knolls they swiftly glide
And over icy spots they take a ride.

In the village one hears voices singing
And the bells of the new season ringing.
Tis Christmas, and everyone is bright
With hopes of starting the New Year right.

Mrs. Berry--It's scandalous to charge us $10.00 for towing the car three or four miles.

Mr. Berry---Never mind, dear, he's earning it, I've got my foot on the brake.

SIMÓN BOLÍVAR

Simón Bolívar fue el libertador de seis países que eran posesiones coloniales de España. De ellas durante casi trescientos años la madre patria tiraba oro y tesoro.

Bolívar nació en Caracas, capital de Venezuela. Fue educado en Europa y se casó con una divina muchacha que murió poco tiempo después. Esto entristeció tanto a Bolívar que nunca volvió a casarse.

Nosotros llamamos a Bolívar "El Jorge Washington de la América del Sur," mientras los sudamericanos dicen que Jorge Washington es "El Simón Bolívar de los Estados Unidos," pensando ambos honrar así al héroe nacional de un buen vecino.

Una vez cruzó Bolívar los Andes con sus soldados, lo que no se creía posible.

Murió exiliado el Gran Libertador, creyendo que había fracasado en el trabajo de su vida y gritando a su criado:

¡José! ¡Trae el equipaje! ¡Nos vamos! Aquí ya no nos quieren.

Después de su muerte, se puso el héroe de un continente, celebrado por nueve países de habla española. En grandes fiestas se oye una y otra vez:

¡Viva Bolívar! ¡Viva el gran Libertador!

Entre alumnos

Juanito--¿Debo decir que Montevideo es en la Argentina o está en la Argentina?

Pablo--Montevideo está en la Argentina, por supuesto.

Juanito--No, señor. No es posible decir que Montevideo está en la Argentina.

Pablo--¿Por qué no?

Juanito--Porque Montevideo está en el Uruguay.

Las Monedas Sudamericanas

Las monedas de las naciones al sur del Río Grande son tanto más interesantes que las muestras varias naciones conmemoran a sus héroes y sus hechos históricos con los nombres que dan a las monedas.

En México encontramos el "hidalgo", moneda que honra al Padre Hidalgo, héroe de la independencia mexicana; en Nicaragua "el limpiro", nombrado así para honrar a Limpira, un héroe indio; y en Panamá hay el "balboa" en honra del descubridor de Pacífico.

Dos países, El Salvador y Costa Rica, usan el nombre "colón" en recuerdo de Cristóbal Colón, el que descubrió a América; mientras que dos otros, Venezuela y Bolivia, honran por monedas a su gran héroe, Simón Bolívar.

Si Vd. viaja algún día por las tierras de las otras Américas, ostudio Vd. las varias monedas que pasen por sus manos. Hallará en ellas muchas informes interesantes sobre la historia y los hombres célebres latinoamericanos.

Nuestra Escuela

Nuestra escuela es un edificio antiguo de madera de tres pisos situada en el centro del pueblo. Tienen dos departamentos, la escuela de primera enseñanza y la escuela de segunda, o la escuela superior.

Todos los niños de Vergennes van a esta escuela y también muchos alumnos del campo alrededor.

Hay en la escuela superior cinco profesoras y cuatro profesores. Queremos mucho a los maestros y también nos quieren a nosotros: todos somos amigos de todos.

Casi todos los alumnos siguen cuatro clases y tienen cuatro periodos libres para estudiar.

Por supuesto, no trabajamos todo el tiempo: gozamos de muchos buenos ratos juntos; en el invierno jugamos al basketball, y en el verano jugamos al beisbal.

Vamos haciéndonos los hombres y las mujeres de mañana. Nos damos cuenta de que la escuela ayuda en prepararnos para nuestras tareas futuras y quedamos reconocidos. Trabajamos mucho. Algunos se harán famosos un día. ¿Quién sabe?

SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

The Senior Class started school activities this year with their hilarious initiation of the Freshman Class. The Freshmen furnished the outfits, while the Seniors did a remarkable job with the "war paint". In the evening the Seniors sponsored a "vic" dance to top off the day's activities.

On November 2, 1945 the Seniors sponsored another dance with Clark's Orchestra. Many people came and enjoyed the round and square dancing.

Rehearsals for the annual Senior play are well under way under the direction of Mrs. Wright. The play is expected to be a big success and much hard work has gone into its making.

The other classes have also done much toward adding to the school activities. Many successful "vic" dances were put over with the usual "school crowd" attending. A dance with Barbari's Vermonters was sponsored by the Junior Class on November 20th. They also sold chances on two live turkeys, which were raffled off at their dance.

The Freshman Class also sponsored a dance with Clark's Orchestra on October 18th. They also had a large crowd.

The school activities this year have certainly kept us busy and there still promises to be much going on in the future.

V. H. S. Magazine Campaign

Our good friend Robert Edgerton, the representative of Crowell Publishing Company got the campaign into swing this fall with his witty jokes and antics. The high school was divided into two groups, the boys vs. the girls. The last two days of the campaign brought on real competition between the groups. The net profit exceeded last year's by $47.47. Last year's net profit was $268.06 which was deposited for a movie projector. This year the total was $315.54 which is being used for athletic equipment.

P. S. Yes, the girls edged out into first place by a few dollars.

RECORD ACTIVITIES

The Senior Class started school activities this year with their annual initiation of the Junior Class. The Freshmen furnished the coffee, while the Seniors did a remarkable job with the "new point". In the evening the Seniors sponsored a "vic" dance to say off the day's activities.

On November 2, 1935 the Seniors sponsored another dance with Clark's Orchestra. Very few people came and enjoyed the evening and money raising.

V. E. C. Legislative Assembly

Our good friend Robert Johnson, the representative of Crawford Publishing Company, met the assembly here and this fall with his wife, John and Esther. The high school was divided into two groups, the boys on the right, the girls on the left. The contest brought on real competition between the groups. The first prize awarded last year by $47.47, last year's contest was $50.00 which was deposited for a movie projector. This year's total was $515.54 which is being used for athletic equipment.

P. E. Yes, the girls sang and gave their class by a lot better.

DID YOU KNOW

That while "she" wears "his" ring on her finger "she wears another around her neck? Guess who?

That Marie Bodette can really roll those eyes?

That Esther has a new heart throb and is trying awfully hard not to lose him By the way he is a graduate.

There's a certain P.G. that is thought to be pretty nice by a certain eighth grader?

Walter Wood has given up our good old Vergennes High School for the Alumni? I wonder what they've got that we have not , Walt?

We wonder why Clovis Yandow has been going home on the late bus now instead of going home with Olin Flynn? Something new!

We wonder why Marie Blakely always saves a seat in the movies? It must be for someone special----does he play on the town team, Marie?

It seems that every time Capt. Bishop uses the gym he blows out all of Mr. Palermo's fuses. Will someone please tell him how to operate the switch?

To Miss Gloria Elizabeth Merrill the meaning of pending is that we haven't got a game scheduled for that date. Now do you understand that is no team by the name of pending?

AS WE SEE IT

"Marie" - dedicated to Paul Chapman. He has been humming it lately, I wonder if it will do him any good,

"Always"-dedicated to Marvin Blakely. Is this true, Lorraine?

"How Many Hearts Have You Broken"--- dedicated to Walter Wood. It could be true in some cases, couldn't it, Walter?

"You'll Never Know" - dedicated to Nancy Partch. She won't tell us a thing!

"Love Letters" - dedicated to Mollie Burnham. San Francisco is quite far off, isn't it Mollie?

"There Must Be A Way" - dedicated to Bill Taylor. Isn't there some way, Bill?

"Bell Bottom Trousers" -dedicated to Jane Norton. She still remains true to the Navy.

"Together" - dedicated to Beverly Wright and Coleman Parker.

"I'll Get By" - dedicated to Clovis Yandow. We would like to know how.

"Gotta Be This or That" - dedicated to Betty Norton. Aren't you ever satisfied, Betty?

"It's Been a Long, Long Time" - dedicated to Jean LeBeau. Could it be an ex-soldier or a sailor?

Mrs. Nelson: Give me the Latin verbs and their principal parts.

Molly Burnham: Dogo, dogere, nupsi, biting.
Skato, skatere, ballsi, bumpum.
Slido, slidere, slipsi, fallum.

GIRLS' SPORTS

by

Jane Norton '48

Basketball practice got under way October 15th with an enthusiastic response from the girls. Despite the fact that graduation last June took from the team five of our best players, we are working with good material.

November 27 and 30 we encountered the strong Alumni Team, opening our season. The games were fast and exciting, with skillful passwork shown by the teams. We managed to come out on the top in both games, winning the first 36-29 and the second 37-34.

On December 4th we witnessed another thriller on our court. The preliminary was a fast contest between the 6th and 8th grade girls. Both grades showed a keen eye for the sport and will be valuable to the varsity in a couple years.

The next speciality on the program was our gallant V. H. S. girls' varsity, looking better than ever in their new uniforms, versus the Shelburne varsity. This was the first game played in the Champlain Valley League, and our team started off with a bang. We easily took the game tallying 46-27.

With the loyal support of V. H. S. and our towns people, we are looking forward to a successful season.

Here's to another year of victory!

November 27 and 30 we encountered the storm. About noon, sporting our season. The games were fast and exciting, with skillful teamwork shown by the teams. We managed to score on the top in both games, winning 21-17 first 35-25 and the second 17-14.

On December 1st we witnessed another thriller on our court. The preliminary was a fast one between the 8th and 9th grades girls. Both grades showed a keen eye for the sport and will be valuable to the varsity in a couple years.

The next specialty on the program was our excellent V. E. girls' variety. Looking better than ever in their new uniforms, under the leadership of Mrs. This was the first game played in the Thompson Willey Gymnasium, and our team started off with a bang. To easily took the game winning 44-27.

With the loyal support of V. E. and our entire people, we are looking forward to a successful season.

Here's to another year of victory!

BOYS' SPORTS

by

Walt Wood

The call to arms came October 15 and was answered by about 18 boys who, under the able guidance of Coach Palermo, immediately began learning the fundamentals of the game. After weeks of practice the number of the squad was reduced to ten men.

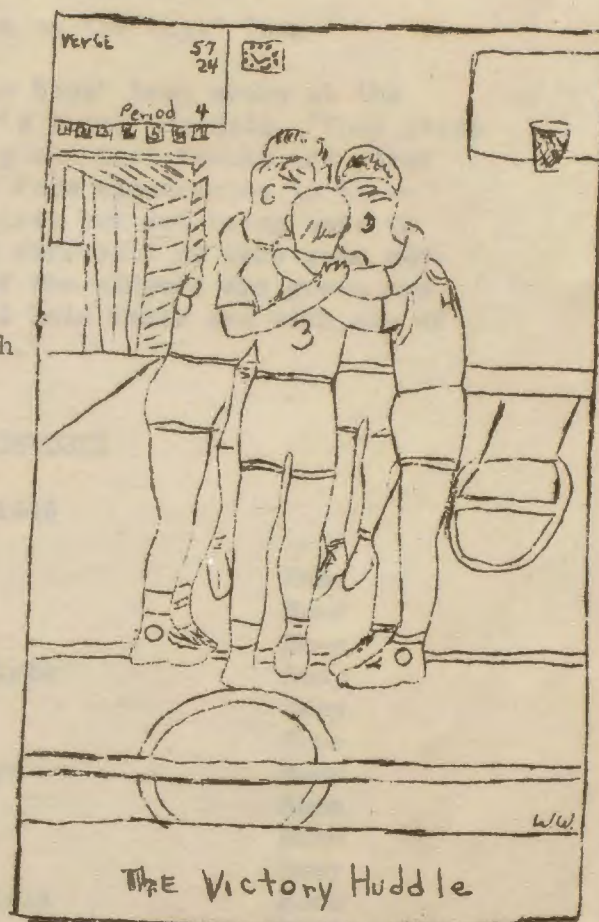

Two vets are back with us this year, Clovis Yandow, a vet forward, shows the same keen eye which won him top scoring honors last year. Walt Wood also a vet forward, is back at his last year's post. Jumping center is Bill Taylor, a new-comer and a very welcome one too. He is showing slick ball handling and has taken over big John Sheehan's title of "rebound" man. Marvin Blakely, who saw action last year as a sub, is holding a permanent position as guard and though he was a forward last year he is showing a lot of fighting spirit and should prove to be a valuable man to the team. Marlin Blakely and Bernard Dike are still battling it out for permanent position as guard. They both seem capable of holding it down. The one who loses this battle will, however, be a valuable sub. The other subs are George Bibeau, Raymond Charbonneau, Howard Danyow, and Olin Flynn.

Tuesday night, November 27, the boys encountered a strong Alumni Team who had the advantage in height, weight, and number of subs, but after a hard fought game, V. H. S. emerged with a victory of 32-29. On Friday night, November 30, they met them again, but lost by one point. The Alumni gained 37 points while V. H. S. gained 36.

The first high school game played was December 4 with Shelburne, which our boys took easily by a score of 57-24. This game was the opening one of the Champlain Valley League.

The prospects of a good season are rosy and it is hoped that our boys will see action this year in the Class C Tournaments, which are to be held at Waterbury, Vermont.

The 7th and 8th grade boys' team, which has been working out along with the varsity this year, have games scheduled with a Cathedral 7th and 8th grade team and a Middlebury 7th and 8th grade team.

This Week

The call to arms came October 15 and was answered by about 15 boys who, under the able guidance of Coach Palmer, immediately began locating the landmarks of the game. After weeks of practice the number of the record was reduced to ten men.

Two sets are made with an idea your, Gloria Kander, a set forward, shows the same team eye which was his top scoring player last year. White found also a set forward, in back of his last year's great, jumping number is Bill Taylor, a new-comer and a very reliable one too. He is showing slight ball handling and has taken over his late brother's style of "robust" play. Gloria Kander, who has been last year as a sub, is holding a permanent position as guard and though he was a forward last year he is showing a lot of fighting spirit and should prove to be a valuable man to the team. Bill Taylor is out for permanent position as guard. They both seem capable of holding it down. The one who takes this battle with, however, is a valuable sub. The other who is George Hines, highest class player, Howard Dwyer, and Bill Ryan.

last year he is showing a lot of fighting spirit and should prove to be a valuable man to the team. Bill Taylor is out for permanent position as guard. They both seem capable of holding it down. The one who takes this battle with, however, is a valuable sub. The other who is George Hines, highest class player, Howard Dwyer, and Bill Ryan.

Twenty night, November 27, the boys encountered a strong Alameda team and the advantage is held, and number of ends, but also a hard fought game, W. H. S. emerged with a victory of 22-10. In February night, November 30, they met them again, but lost by one point. The Alameda gained 27 points while W. H. S. gained 26.

The first high school game played was between 4 and 2nd, which our boys took easily by a score of 27-14. This was the opening of the Chappin Valley League.

The prospects of a good season are very and it is hoped that our boys will see action this year in the Class C Tournament, which are to be held at Lathrop, Oregon.

The 7th and 8th grade boys' team, which has been working out along with the varsity this year, have been scheduled with a Catholic 7th and 8th grade team and a Methodist 7th and 8th grade team.

The Victory Huddle

Coach Palermo's Opinion of the Boys' Team

Coach Palermo states that the boys' team seems at the present time ahead of last year's team. He said, "They grasp the ideas much quicker and carry out fast breaks and other plays with greater smoothness. From appearances in three games, they show ability and spirit but not being used to a small floor, they may find it difficult to take some out-of-town games. Although many of the players are green and inexperienced, I think they will hold their own with any of their opponents on our own floor."

I am a little angel with a pair of silver wings
I've followed like a shadow and kept him out of things.
Now, when it comes up judgment day
And he can no longer flirt,
I'll step right up and boldly say,
You've chased your last "skirt".

Coach Palmer's Opinion of the Boys' Team

Coach Palmer states that the boys' team seems at the present time ahead of last year's team. He said, "They know the fundamentals of the game and they are fast and strong. They play with greater enthusiasm. Four opponents in three games, they show ability and spirit but not being used to a small team, they say that it is difficult to take care of them. Although many of the players are green and inexperienced, I think they will hold their own with any of their opponents on our own team."

BASKETBALL

Basketball is one of the most important outside activities that any high school has to offer.

The younger children are going to become the members of the future basketball teams of V. H. S., and it is necessary for them to begin their training while they are in the grades. For the past few years, the first six grades have been rather neglected in this respect. Last year, Mr. Palermo, who coaches both the boys' and girls' teams, took a great interest in these younger pupils and now Grades 3 - 6 are having regular classes in this training. They are being taught the principles of the game and are taking great interest in the contests between the classes. Many of these pupils already show promise of becoming good players, and we hope that there will be more of these games in the grades.

If this program is continued, the boys and girls in the lower grades will be able to look forward to many successful seasons in Basketball.

Nancy Partch '47

CHEER LEADERS OF V. H. S.

Cheer leading has started off well this year under the direction of Mrs. Wright. The regulars are: Ruth Danyow, a veteran of last year; Betty Jordan, Beverly Wright, Barbara Evans, Marie Blakely and Carol Griffis. Mary Cooke and Muriel Benedict are filling in as substitutes.

The girls have had practices regularly with Betty Norton, a former cheer leader, coaching them. Three of the girls have selected outfits of blue skirts and white sweaters, while the other three wear outfits with alternating colors.

At a Pep Rally, November 30, they demonstrated their cheers and lead the school songs. Real school spirit was shown.

The girls made their first appearance at the Alumni Game and received a gratifying applause from the V. H. S. rooters.

Best of luck, girls!

Basketball is one of the most important outside activities that any high school can offer.

The younger children are going to become the members of the future basketball team of V. H. S., and it is necessary for them to begin their training while they are in the grades. For the past few years, the first six grades have been rather neglected in this respect. Last year, Mr. Johnson, the coach, both the boys' and girls' teams, took a great interest in these younger pupils and now Grades 3 - 6 are having regular classes in this training. They are being taught the principles of the game and are taking great interest in the contests between the classes. Many of these pupils already show promise of becoming good players, and we hope that there will be many of them present in the grades.

If this program is continued, the boys and girls in the lower grades will be able to look forward to many successful seasons in basketball.

Henry Farnsworth

CHIEF LEADER OF V. H. S.

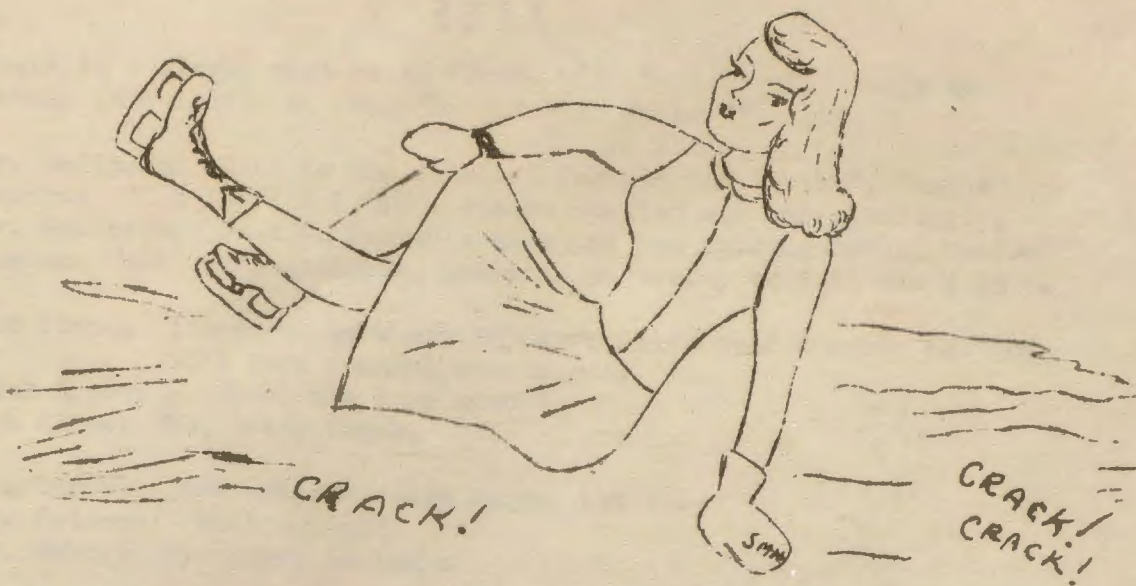

Chief leading has started off well this year under the direction of Mrs. Wright. The regulars are: Bob Langley, a veteran of last year; Betty Hanson, Beverly Wright, Barbara Evans, Marie Blahny and Carol Wright. Mary Cooke and Marie Benedict are filling in as substitutes.

The girls have had previous experience with Betty Hanson, a former cheer leader, coaching them. Three of the girls have enjoyed outside of him while and while students, while the other three were outside with alternating classes.

At a pep rally, November 30, they demonstrated their sports and love the school songs. Their school spirit was shown.

The girls made their first appearance at the Alumni Game and received a gratifying response from the V. H. S. students.

Best of luck, girls!

THE NEED FOR A PUBLIC SKATING RINK

Every year around Thanksgiving Time, the students of V. H. S. make the plea for a skating rink. Why shouldn't there be a public rink? We students work hard all day, and at night want a place where we can go for a little recreation. When we say we want a place to go for recreation, we don't mean a place that would take an officer of the law in order to maintain order. We want a clean, decent place to go, and that is why we feel that a skating rink would solve part of a difficult situation.

Last year the Rotary Club decided to do something about a skating rink. They had one well started just east of the bridge crossing the river, when one of those snow storms, typical of Vermont, severe and unexpected, arrived. The city dump truck took this time to break down, and then there was no one to clear the rink. Now, if the students had been as anxious as they should have been, they would have been willing to form committees, shoulder shovels and go forth and clear the rink of its snow. But did the students, who had been so anxious to have a rink, as long as none of the work fell on them, go ahead and do anything about it? No, they sat down and mourned over the fact that the construction of a rink had to be left once more unfinished.

Again this year the plea went out for a skating rink. Again the Rotary Club is going to try to help the student body, if that group is willing to help itself a little. Either the students must be willing to keep the rink cleared of snow, or there must be a small fee for using the rink, in order to hire a man to do the job properly.

Students, won't you work a little harder and go about this on a fifty-fifty basis with the members of the Rotary Club?

THE NEED FOR A MENTAL EXERCISE

Every year around Thanksgiving time, the students of V. M. S. make the plan for a skating rink. Why? Because there is a big-his rink. The students with heart all day, and at night want a place where we can go for a little recreation. Then we say we want a place to go for recreation, we don't mean a place that would ruin an officer of the law in order to maintain order.
 We want a place, skating place to go, and that is why we feel that a skating rink would solve part of a difficult situation.

Last year the Rotary Club decided to do something about a skating rink. They had one well situated just east of the bridge across the river, when one of those men, typical of Vermont, noisy and uneducated, arrived. The very next week took this time to break down, and when there was no one to clean the rink. Now, if the students had been as nervous as they should have been, they would have been willing to have somebody, the other skaters and go forth and after the rink of ice snow. But did the students, who had been so anxious to have a rink, as long as some of the work fell on them, go ahead and do anything about it? No, they sat down and worried over the fact that the construction of a rink had to be left over more untended.

Now it is your chance to get a skating rink. Again the Rotary Club is going to try to help the student body. If that group is willing to help build a little. Either the students must be willing to keep the rink cleared of snow, or there must be a man for the work. In order to have a man to do the job properly.

Students, what's your work a little harder and go about this as a fifty-fifty basis with the members of the Rotary Club!

B U Z Z

There is a slogan that reads "Write with Eversharp!" Could we change it a little to read "Wright with Parker"?

Mr. Galipeau: What is the chemical formula for "water", Yandow?

Yandow: "H I J K L M N O!" - Yandow spelled out unhesitatingly.

Mr. Galipeau: What in Heaven's name are you talking about, Yandow?

Yandow: Well, Mr. Galipeau, you said yesterday that it was H to O.

Bob Jimmo: I dropped my watch in Otter Creek over a month ago and it's been running ever since.

Dick Raymond: What! the same watch?

Bob Jimmo: No, Otter Creek.

Mr. Berry: I've matered every tongue but one.

Mr. Palermo: What's that?

Mr. Berry: My mother-in-law's.

Mrs. Berry: Why are you so late for school, Taylor?

Taylor: Because school had started before I got here.

Jane Norton: Mr. Cushman, have you any window panes, 6"xx 9"?

Mr. Cushman: No, I haven't but I can sell you a window pane 9" x 6".

Jane Norton: Well, I'll take one of those and maybe if I put it in side-ways, my boss won't notice it.

Pete Fisher: Hey, girly, pull over to the curb. Don't you know you were doing seventy?

Betty Norton: Isn't that wonderful! And I just learned how to drive yesterday.

Mr. Palermo entered his Biology Class Room. "Today", he announced, "I intend to show you the inner workings of a frog." As he unwrapped the package, Teresa Bodette exclaimed, "Why, Mr. Palermo, that is two ham sandwiches!"

"Oh! How stupid of me!" said the perplexed Mr. Palermo. "I could have sworn that I ate my lunch a few moments ago."

Mrs. Berry: Mr. Bishop will be here for lunch, Ann, so run and wash your face.

Ann Berry: O. K, Mom, but supposing he doesn't come?

Paul Chapman: Did your watch stop when it hit the floor, Jimmy?

Jimmy Smith: Did you expect it to keep right on going?

Gloria Merrill: Excuse me for staring at you. I'm just looking for the word.

Walt Wood: What word?

Gloria Merrill: All the fellows said that if ever a boy had idiot written all over his face, it was you!

Lorraine Poquette: Marvin, can you carry a tune?

Marvin Blakely: Sure.

Lorraine Poquette: Well, carry the one you are whistling outdoors and bury it.

There is a sign that reads "Write with Penicillin" Could we change it a little to read "Write with Penicillin"?

Mr. Galt: That is the official language for "Penicillin", London? Yes, "Penicillin" - London spelled out phonetically. Mr. Galt: What is Galt's name? You talking about, London? London: Well, Mr. Galt, you said yesterday that it was H. to G.

Bob: I dropped my watch in Otter Creek over a month ago and it's been running ever since. Dick: What the hell watch? Bob: No, Otter Creek.

Mr. Galt: I've watched every thing but me. Mr. Galt: What's it? Mr. Galt: It's in the air.

Mr. Galt: You are so late for school, Taylor. Taylor: Because school has started before I got here.

Mr. Galt: Have you any other penes, 6"x 8"? Mr. Galt: No, I have a pen 8" x 6". Mr. Galt: Tell me one of those and maybe it'll be it. side-says, my boss won't notice it.

Mr. Galt: Well, tell me to the word. Don't you know you were doing something? Mr. Galt: I'm not sure. But I just learned how to drive yesterday.

Mr. Galt: I entered his Biology Class Room. "Today," he announced, "I intend to show you the basic workings of a frog." As he unpacked the frog, Mr. Galt: "Well, Mr. Galt, that is two penes." Mr. Galt: "I'm right of you," said the professor. "I could have sworn that I saw my jump a few moments ago."

Mr. Galt: Mr. Galt: Will be here for lunch, but no pen and wash your face.

Mr. Galt: O. K. Well, but I'm waiting for Galt's pen.

Paul: Galt: Did you watch when it hit the floor, Galt? Galt: Did you expect it to jump right or wrong?

Galt: Galt: Excuse me for asking at you. I'm just looking for the word.

What word?

Galt: Galt: All the fellows said that it was a boy had idiot written all over his face, it was good.

Mr. Galt: Galt: And you carry a pen?

Mr. Galt: Galt: Sure.

Mr. Galt: Galt: Well, carry the one you use yesterday outdoors and buy it.

AS WE SEE IT

"I Dream of You" - dedicated to Shirley Hamel. Well, she can dream, can't she?

"I'll Be Seeing You" - dedicated to Carol Griffis. Forty-five miles isn't so far.

"Don't Fence Me In" - dedicated to Molly Jerger.

"Small Fry" - dedicated to Raymond Tucker. When are you going to decide to grow up, Raymond?

"Oh, Johnny" - dedicated to Esther Bristol. How true is it?

"Let's Take the Long Way Home" - dedicated to Barbara Evans. Ask Marlin Blakely, he knows.

"Just For Me" - dedicated to Jean Moorby. Ask Eldred, he knows.

"All Alone" - dedicated to Barbara Drew. Can it be someone in Newport?

"No Can Do" - dedicated to Ernie Chapman.

"That's For Me" - dedicated to Kay Looby.

We'd like to ask Paul Chapman who that certain Junior girl is that he's got his eye on?

Walt Wood is taking Clovis Yandow's place as the Casanova of V. H. S. Aren't you going to do something about it, Clovis?

Who are the two dark-haired fellows we've seen Marie Blakely with at the movies lately? One certainly can dance but how about the other, Marie?

To Marvin Blakely and Lorraine Poquette all we can say is that "It's Been A Long, Long Time".

Ruthie Danyow and Betty Jordan certainly go for the Navy---especially if they are from Bristol. Oh, Betty, is it true what they say about the farmers, too? Yes, Betty, that's what we mean! ! !

We'd like to ask Shirley and Kay what the big attraction is in the Smith boys. Would you girls enlighten us on this subject?

"I know of you" - dedicated to Harry Brown. Well, she was known, and what?

"I'll be seeing you" - dedicated to Carol Brice. Forgive me but I'm not.

"Don't leave me" - dedicated to Billy Brown.

"Smile, you" - dedicated to Raymond Brown. When are you going to decide to grow up, Raymond?

"Oh, Johnny" - dedicated to Arthur Brown. How time is it?

"Let's take the long way home" - dedicated to Herbert Brown. Ask Lillian Brown, he knows.

"What for?" - dedicated to Sam Brown. Ask Lillian, he knows.

"All alone" - dedicated to Robert Brown. Can it be someone in London?

"We can do" - dedicated to Emily Brown.

"That's for me" - dedicated to Ray Brown.

Let's like to ask Paul Brown who that certain Junior girl is that he's not his girl?

This post is taking Oliver Brown's place as the Chairman of W. H. S.
Aren't you going to do something about it, Oliver?

The one and the two dark-haired fellows were seen later. Brownish with the matter later? One certainly can know but how about the other, Robert?

To leave Brown and Lillian. Remember all we can say is that "I'm from A Long Time".

Arthur Brown and Betty Brown certainly to for the boys--especially if they are from Bristol. Oh, Betty, is it true what they say about the future, too? Yes, Betty, that's what we would like.

Let's like to ask Arthur and Ray what the big attraction is in the Smith boys. Would you give attention as on this subject?
